Education is a practical pedagogical process aimed at forming certain physical, mental, moral and spiritual qualities in a person; a set of measures taken to ensure that a person has the characteristics necessary for living in society. Education is the most ancient and eternal value that ensures the humanity of a person. Neither an individual nor a human society can exist without education. Because the values that ensure the existence of a person and society are passed from one generation to another only thanks to education.

The term "education" is used in pedagogical literature in broad and narrow senses. In a broad sense, education means the sum of all influences, activities, actions, and aspirations aimed at forming a human personality, ensuring his active participation in society's production and social, cultural, educational life. In this understanding, education includes not only the educational work carried out in the family, school, children and youth organizations, but also the entire social system, its leading ideas, literature, art, cinema, radio, television, etc. Also, the concept of education in a broad sense includes education and information acquisition.

In a narrow sense, education means pedagogical activity aimed at the cultivation of physical development of a person, worldview, spiritual and moral image, and aesthetic taste. This is done by family, educational institutions and public organizations. Education and getting information is not part of education in the narrow sense. But any upbringing exists only in close connection with education. Because in the process of education and information acquisition, not only the knowledge of a person increases, but also the determination of moral and spiritual qualities is accelerated.

What do we mean by "homeland", "patriotism"?

"Motherland" is a sacred feeling that has been refined over thousands of years, inspires people's souls, encourages brave men to be brave and, if necessary, to sacrifice their lives for the motherland.

"motherland" is our family, home, neighborhood, village and city, and, of course, this is our native Uzbekistan.

At this point, it is appropriate to highlight the following words from the speech of our first president i.a. Karimov at the 3rd session of the supreme assembly of the republic of Uzbekistan: i need it. National pride should be the foundation of all our work."

These holy ideas, regardless of nationality and faith, should be absorbed into the life and mind of every person living in this country, every citizen, the biggest support, the biggest trust for each of us, and it should become a true faith."

Only if defending independence, appreciating it, glorifying it and serving it becomes our national consciousness, our creed, no force can turn us back from our chosen path, cannot bend us.

As the state strives for development, it must first of all ensure the well-being of its citizens, legally define their rights and freedoms, and establish a certain order in society and social relations. Everyone must respect and follow these laws equally. Only then there will be peace in the society and peace in the country. If there is peace in the country, if people on this earth live peacefully, that is happiness.

Article 64 of our constitution states that "protecting the republic of Uzbekistan is the duty of every citizen of the republic of Uzbekistan...". Indeed, whether it is a boy or a girl, the children of this country should always be ready to serve our boundless country. After all, our president has great hopes for us young people, who are the foundations of the future. We must fully justify this trust, besides, we must protect our free and prosperous country like the apple of our eye.

These great ideas should be absorbed into the blood and hearts of each of us and become a sacred wealth - a sacred heritage for future generations.

Such ideas fully reveal to us the meaning and essence of the word "patriotism" and what a "patriot" should be.

When we hear the words "patriotic" and "patriotic", the images of our great ancestors SHirak, Tomaris, Alpomish, Jaloliddin Manguberdi, Namazbotir and the great master Amir Temur come to mind.

Like them, we will try to become a worthy generation for the homeland and the Uzbek people.

We bow before the noble sons of our nation, Usman Nasir, Fitrat, Cholpon and other great figures who lived in the recent past, during the time of the shura government. Their patriotism, bravery, the fact that they sacrificed their lives for the bright future of the uzbek people, the lives they lived and fought for the development of the nation will be a school of life for the younger generation - a school of patriotism.

Independence, the establishment of an independent sovereign state is the realization of the centuries-old dream of every nation, its hopes and sacred goals. The people of Uzbekistan declared their state independence on august 31, 1991. Another independent, full-fledged, sovereign state, the republic of Uzbekistan, appeared on the world map.

The republican assembly of Uzbekistan declared September 1, 1991 as the day of independence. From that day on, we fully felt the feeling of homeland.

Selfless struggle of our people for an independent homeland came true, we got our motherland, language and religion.

Each generation builds the history and reputation of elurti with its filial love and faith, loyalty and creativity, tenacity and bravery. The strength and source of independent Uzbekistan is the loyalty of our people to universal values. Our people have been preserving the tender buds of justice, equality, friendly neighborliness and humanity for centuries. The main goal of modernizing Uzbekistan is to restore these traditions, to give them a new meaning, to create the necessary conditions for achieving peace and democracy, prosperity, culture, freedom of conscience and the development of everyone in our land.

National independence ideology - a set of political, scientific, theoretical, historical, philosophical, artistic and religious views on the achievement of independence of Uzbekistan, an ideological weapon that educates the people in the spirit of confidence and faith in the future, and unites all categories of people towards this goal. 'Ayat is a powerful spiritual factor. The main essence of the ideology of national independence is as follows:

Inculcating the feelings of trust, love, honesty, patience, justice, and enlightenment into people's minds based on the age-old traditions, traditions, mentality, language, and religious ideas of our people;

Through the ideology of national independence, to educate our people, relying on their own power and protection, based on universal values, and striving to occupy an equal and worthy place in the world community, among advanced countries;

Forming a healthy, spiritually rich, perfect generation.

Characteristics such as patriotism, freedom, national pride, humanitarianism, and internationalism form the basis of the ideology of national independence.

As our first president i. Karimov pointed out, in our efforts to build a free and prosperous homeland, a free and prosperous life, which is our ultimate goal, spiritual and spiritual strength for us - the source of power, the scientific basis, it must be a national idea, a national ideology.

Since the first days of our country's independence, special attention has been paid to this issue. Everyone is aware of the work done in order to determine the place of national ideology in our life, create its scientific and theoretical foundations, develop ideological educational directions, and form social opinion in our society on this basis.

After all, the state system, its management and the conducted policy should be built on the basis of a clear and clearly expressed ideology. It is inevitable that a society that does not rely on its national idea will face a crisis and lose its way.

It is necessary to inculcate in the mind of every person, especially the young people who are just starting out in life, that it is up to them to achieve the goals set for them, that is, it depends on their unwavering enthusiasm, until they must realize that it depends on their selflessness and endless hard work. The same thing is the main condition for the development of our country and people.

Our greatest task and our sacred duty today is to open a worthy page in the history of Uzbekistan and fill it with noble and meritorious deeds that will serve as an example for our generations.

Based on these great goals, we should set our main tasks. The main task of us, that is, the future military training teachers, is to be a nation who loves this independent country with all its heart, who is ready to bravely and, if necessary, sacrifice its life for its prosperity and freedom, for its people. Is to bring up brave boys, Uzbek patriots, who are burning for their country.

This education must be carried out in an integral connection with moral, work, aesthetic, spiritual and physical types of general education.

Among the above-mentioned types of education, military-patriotic education occupies an important place. Military-patriotic education should educate young people in the spirit of loyalty and love for the motherland, its glorious history, peace-loving and constructive people.

Before the call-up, students acquire the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary for their future service in the armed forces and the defense of our country in military-patriotic and mass-defense events. During these trainings and events, they will receive basic information on the basics of military work and service. Young people deeply study the history of our armed forces, its activities in protecting the independence of our country today, types of armed forces and their tasks, service procedures in the armed forces and many other necessary knowledge.
